-- The MAILING DATE of this communication appears on the cover sheet with the correspondence address --
Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Cheng (US 5,857,567) in view of Fieldhouse (US 2,602,678) and Igarashi (US 5,178,273).

Cheng teaches a retractable frame (14) of a golf bag (10) including:

A retainer (141) bolted to the upper edge of the front side of the bag (10);
two tubes (142) pivotally engaged and capable of swinging at recesses on opposing sides of the retainer (141), see Column 2, lines 57-60;

a coupling at the upper edge of each tube (142), see Figure 3, for receiving branches of a fork (143) and the bottom of the fork (143) being fixed to the upper edge of a base panel (144) of the golf bag (10).

Cheng does not teach a tube receiving an inner tube.

Fieldhouse teaches a golf bag including a pair of tubes or legs (32) being adjustable in length, including:

a fixation hole at the lower edge of tube (32);

an inner tube (43) with a through hole at the upper edge aligned with the fixation hole of the tube (32); a pin (36) inserted through the fixation hole and through hole for adjustably inserting the inner tube (34) within the tube (32).

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify the tube/legs of the retainer assembly taught by Cheng, to include an inner tube received in a tube/leg, for providing an adjustable height position for the golf bag and improving storability of the bag assembly.

Igarashi teaches a golf bag assembly wherein golf bag support assembly tubes (130,130A), see Figures 9-11) are shown to include hinge (134,138) for collapsing the tubes and improving the storability of the bag.

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify the tube/ legs of the golf bag assembly taught by Cheng modified by Fieldhouse, to further include a hinge for further collapsing the tubes of the assembly and further improving the storability of the golf bag to save storage space.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Ross, Jr. teaches a retainer assembly for a golf bag. Chung teaches an automatic retainer for a golf bag. Cheng teaches a retainer support set for a bag. Hsieh teaches an adjustable retainer assembly. Lee teaches a golf bag stand. Wu teaches a golf bag frame retainer assembly. Sundara et al teaches a golf bag stand system. Shiao Chen teaches a golf bag retainer system.
